GETTING AFTER PHYSICIANS AND PRESCRIPTIONS

The State Board of Health is setting on foot a campaign against the few doctors of the State who are willing to give whisky prescriptions to any person who will pay them a fee for doing so, it was announced by Dr. A. T. McCormick, State Health Officer. This campaign will in no case attempt to interfere, Dr. McCormick said, with doctors who in their opinion, will be benefited by liquor used as a medicine. "Its only targets, he declared, are 'physicians guilty of the nefarious, unprofessional and disgraceful practice of selling prescriptions to all applicants who can pay a fee for them. Only 400 of the 3,000 doctors in the State write prescriptions at all, according to Dr. McCormick."

STAGE REALISM TO MOVIES

An appliance has been invented that takes the flatness out of moving pictures, projecting the picture on the screen with the sense of depth. Two views are taken, one for the left, one for the right eye; they are developed on the film one above the other, and when thrown on the screen the spectator looks at them through an instrument on the order of a stereoscope. All that remains now to bring the stage to every home is a phonographic attachment that makes the characters talk.

Spare the rod and spoil a good resolution.
